RISK FACTORS

Securities laws require that a company warn prospective purchasers of all material risks that apply to the company and its offering. A company that fails to disclose all material risks may face liability under state and federal law.

1. The following is a summary of the material risks that apply to the Company and this offering. The Company has checked off risks that it has identified as applicable to this offering, and has included additional risk factors that are unique to the Company. You should carefully consider these risks prior to investing in this offering. Failure to disclose all material risks may cause the Company, its officers, directors, managers, and/or promoters to be liable for securities fraud.

Operating History

- The Company has limited or no operating history. As a new enterprise, the Company is likely to be subject to risks that management has not anticipated.
- Because the Company has only been operating for a short period of time, it has produced little or no profit. There is no assurance that it will ever produce a profit.
- You may lose your entire investment. You should not invest in this offering unless you can afford to lose your entire investment.

Limited Resources/Losses

- The Company has limited resources and will not be able to continue operating without the proceeds from this offering. It is possible that the proceeds from this offering and other resources may not be enough for the Company to continue operating.
- The Company expects to experience losses from its operations and cannot predict when or if it will become profitable. If the Company becomes profitable, it may not be sustainable.
- The Company has incurred losses since inception and may incur future losses. The Company has not yet generated a profit from operations. As of the date of the Company's most recent financial statements, it had an accumulated deficit of

Experience of Management

- None of the Company's executive officers, directors, and/or managers has managed a company in this industry. The Company's ability to operate successfully may depend on its ability to attract and retain qualified personnel, who may be in great demand.
- None of the Company's executive officers, directors, and/or managers has experience in managing an enterprise that is in a development stage.
- Prior to organizing the Company, one or more of its executive officers, directors, and/or managers operated a business in which shareholders lost part or all of their investment. The Company's ability to operate successfully may depend on its executive officers, directors, and/or managers to succeed where they have failed before.
- The Company's executive officers, directors, and/or managers will continue to have substantial ownership and control over the Company after the offering.
- The Company's success depends substantially on the experience and knowledge of its executive officers, directors, and/or managers. The Company may be harmed if it loses their services and it is not able to attract and retain qualified replacements.

- The Company does not maintain key person life or disability insurance on executive officers, directors, and/or managers that are important to the Company's success. The loss of any of these individuals could have a substantial negative impact on the Company and your investment.

Competition

- The Company operates in a highly technical industry which is characterized by frequent introductions of new products and services into the market. The Company's success will depend in part on its ability to improve on such products or services, develop new products or services and provide necessary support.
- A large number of enterprises provide products or services similar to the Company's. The Company will be competing with established businesses that have an operating history, and greater financial resources, management experience and market share than the Company. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to compete or capture adequate market share. The Company may not be profitable if it cannot compete successfully with other businesses.

Regulatory Risk

- The Company must comply with local, state and federal rules and regulations. If the Company fails to comply with a rule or regulation it may be subject to fines or other penalties, or its permit or license may be lapsed, revoked, or suspended. The Company may have to stop operating and you could lose your entire investment.

"Best-efforts" Offering

- The Company is offering these securities on a "best-efforts" basis. The Company has not contracted with an underwriter, placement agent, or other person to purchase or sell all or a portion of its securities and there is no assurance that it can sell all or any of the securities.

Dilution

- The price of a share in this offering is significantly higher than the book value of the securities. If you invest in this offering, you will incur immediate and substantial dilution of the book value of your investment.
- To the extent that outstanding options or warrants to purchase securities are exercised, you will incur further dilution of the book value of your investment.
- There are no limits in place to restrict the Company's ability to issue securities in the future. If the Company issues additional securities, you may experience further dilution of the value of your investment.

Lack of Investor Control

- The Company's executive officers, directors, managers, and/or key persons will continue to have substantial control over the Company after the offering. As such, you may have little or no ability to influence the affairs of the Company.

No Existing Market

- Because there is no market for the Company's securities, you may not be able to sell your securities or recover any part of your investment. If you may need to sell your investment and obtain cash, you should not invest.

Offering Price

- The offering price of the Company's securities has been arbitrarily set and as such should not be considered an indication of the actual value of the Company.
