Agency for Persons with Disabilities

RULE NOS.: RULE TITLES:

- 65G-13.001 Definitions
- 65G-13.002 Individual and Family Supports (IFS) Procedure
- 65G-13.003 Individual and Family Supports Criteria
- 65G-13.004 In-Home Subsidy Procedure
- 65G-13.005 In-Home Subsidy Criteria
- 65G-13.006 In-Home Subsidy Restrictions
- 65G-13.007 In-Home Subsidy Review

PURPOSE AND EFFECT: The purpose and effect of these rules and rule amendments is to clarify the process and criteria used by the Agency for Persons with Disabilities (“Agency”) to review and approve or deny requests for Individual and Family Support (“IFS”) services. Additionally, these rules implement section 393.0695, Florida Statutes, which requires rulemaking. The rules establish the process and criteria used by the Agency to approve or deny requests for in-home subsidies.

SUMMARY: Regarding Rule 65G-13.001, the definitions are expanded to include services listed in this chapter and to increase clarity of certain terms used in the new and amended rules. Regarding Rules 65G-13.002 and 13.003, the IFS application process is clarified; the permitted and disallowed IFS services are clarified; and eliminates the utilization of priority criteria. New rules 65G-13.004 through 13.007, are added to implement in-home subsidies by adopting: approval criteria; the process for approval and denial; procedures for applying; incorporating the Individual Financial Profile form that will be used to determine the individual need pursuant to a request for an in-home subsidy; and the allowable and non-allowable uses for which the subsidy can be used.

SUMMARY OF STATEMENT OF ESTIMATED REGULATORY COSTS AND LEGISLATIVE RATIFICATION:

The Agency has determined that this will not have an adverse impact on small business or likely increase directly or indirectly regulatory costs in excess of $200,000 in the aggregate within one year after the implementation of the rule. A SERC has not been prepared by the Agency.

The SERC can be summarized as follows: the rules do not have an adverse impact on small business and are not likely to increase directly or indirectly regulatory costs in excess of $200,000 in the aggregate within one year after the implementation of each rule; the Agency determined that the amendments to these rules do not have an adverse impact on economic growth, private sector job creation or employment, private sector investment, business competitiveness, productivity, or innovation, nor do they increase regulatory costs, including transactional costs, in excess of $200,000 in the aggregate within one year or in excess of $1 million in the aggregate within five years after the implementation of the amendments to these rules; these rules are necessary to implement the mandatory ruling making provision of section 363.0695, F.S., regarding the use of in-home subsidies; and these rules clarify the implementation of services described in 393.066, F.S.

The Agency has determined that the proposed rule is not expected to require legislative ratification based on the statement of estimated regulatory costs or if no SERC is required, the information expressly relied upon and described herein: A SERC Checklist and SERC were prepared by the Agency to determine the need for legislative ratification. Based on this information at the time of the analysis, summarized above, and pursuant to section 120.541, Fla. Stat., the rules will not require legislative ratification because costs will not be in excess of $1 million in the aggregate within 5 years after the implementation of the rules.

Any person who wishes to provide information regarding a statement of estimated regulatory costs, or provide a proposal for a lower cost regulatory alternative must do so in writing within 21 days of this notice.

65G-13.005 In-Home Subsidy Criteria

(1) All in-home subsidy funding is limited to basic living necessities that enable a client, in supported living, to live in his or her own home.

(2) In addition to the other requirements of this section, to be eligible for an in-home subsidy, a client must establish:

(a) he or she is eighteen years of age or older;

(b) he or she either:

1. requires the assistance of an in-home subsidy to move into one's own home; or

2. is unable to remain in his or her own home without an in-home subsidy;

(c) that living in his or her own home:

1. is in the client's best interest;

2. does not jeopardize the health, safety, or welfare of themselves or others; and

3. is more cost-effective than other options;

(d) for a client who leases their own home, a current written lease, signed by the client and landlord that is not prohibited.

1. Prohibited leases for in-home subsidy purposes include:

a. A month-to-month lease unless the client's circumstances meet any of the criteria listed in (I)-(III) of this paragraph and may not be used for more than three consecutive months per fiscal year.

I. All available housing options that meet a client's identified needs require a month-to-month lease. For purposes of this paragraph, "available housing options" means the options that are reasonable relative to the client's financial means, as identified in the Individual Financial Profile;

II. Alternative living arrangements that offer long-term leases, such as annual leases, cannot reasonably meet the client's identified needs as described in his or her support plan; or

b. Any fixed term that is less than one month.

(3) In-home subsidies are funds of last resort and will only be granted when all other available resources are exhausted, including those described in subsection 65G-13.003(3), F.A.C. The client shall utilize all resources or options, other than moving into the family home, to reduce the cost of living, including the requirements in subsections (a)-(e) below, before an in-home subsidy may be authorized.

(a) A client requesting an in-home subsidy for rental assistance shall show proof that he or she has applied for and been denied or is on the waiting list for rental assistance through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development or other local governmental organization (e.g., the local public housing authority).

(b) A client is expected to participate in utility/telephone company budget plans, if available, or other low-income cellular phone assistance programs. In-home subsidy funds may be used to pay the cost of cellular phone service instead of a landline telephone service only if it would not cost more than a landline telephone service. A cost comparison of cellular phone services and landline telephone service shall be included with the client's Individual Financial Profile.

(c) A client who intends to use the in-home subsidy funds for food shall show proof that he or she has been approved or denied supplemental nutrition assistance program ("SNAP") benefits within the last twelve (12) months.

(d) A client is expected to live within his or her means, which may include living with a roommate or roommates.

(e) Costs related to the in-home subsidy request shall be reasonable for the geographical area where the client lives.

(4) An in-home subsidy will not be approved if the need for which it is being requested is the result of the mismanagement of client funds by either the client or the client's legal representative.

(5) The Agency will not reimburse start-up expenses that the client incurred prior to receiving approval for a start-up in-home subsidy.

(6) Unavailability of funds is sufficient reason to deny an in-home subsidy.

(7) Amount of in-home subsidy. The Agency determines an eligible client's in-home subsidy amount by calculating an individual determination of need, based on the client's Individual Financial Profile and supporting documentation.

(8) This Rule shall be reviewed, and if necessary, renewed through the rulemaking process five years from the effective date.
