1. FLORIDA LAWS & RULES:

You may download a copy of Section 460.4165, Florida Statutes and Rule Chapter 64B2-18, Florida Administrative Code at www.doh.state.fl.us/mqa/chiro/index.html It is important to read this in order to determine your eligibility prior to applying, and to familiarize yourself with the statutes and board rules regarding your application for licensure

2. LICENSURE INFORMATION:

Any Certified Chiropractic Physician's Assistant (CCPA) certified under this section to perform services may perform those services only:

- (a) In the office of the chiropractic physician to whom the CCPA has been assigned, in which office such physician maintains his/her primary practice;
- (b) Under indirect supervision of the chiropractic physician to whom she/he is assigned as defined by rule of the board;
- (c) In a hospital in which the chiropractic physician to whom she/he is assigned is a member of the staff; or
- (d) On calls outside of the office of the chiropractic physician to whom she/he is assigned, on the direct order of the chiropractic physician to whom she/he is assigned.

Each chiropractic physician or group of chiropractic physicians utilizing CCPAs shall be liable for any act or omission of any CCPA acting under his/her or their supervision and control.

The terms "certified chiropractic physician's assistant," or "physician's assistant," or "assistant" as used herein refers to allied health personnel, certified by the Department upon approval by the Board, who are functioning in a dependent relationship with a supervising chiropractic physician and who are performing tasks or combinations of tasks traditionally performed by the chiropractic physician. A CCPA may perform case histories, diagnostic testing, physical examinations, and therapeutic procedures. However, an assistant cannot be assigned any tasks requiring manipulative or adjustive techniques, the rendering of diagnostic results, interpretations, or treatment advice, or the taking of x-rays unless properly certified by the Radiation Control office.

The term "supervision" means responsible supervision and control by the supervising chiropractic physician. Except in cases of emergency, supervision shall require the "easy availability" or physical presence of the licensed chiropractic physician for consultation and direction of the actions of the CCPA. "Easy availability" means the supervising physician must be in a location to enable him/her to be physically present with the CCPA within at least thirty minutes and must be available to the CCPA when needed for consultation and advice either in person or by communication devices, such as telephone, two-way radio, medical beeper or other electronic means.

Rule 64B2-18.007 Method of Performance.

- (1) An assistant must clearly identify himself or herself by appropriate identification as a certified chiropractic physician's assistant to insure that he or she is not mistaken for a licensed physician (for example, a name tag).
- (2) The assistant must generally function in reasonable proximity to the supervising physician. If he or she is to perform away from the supervising physician, these duties must be clearly specified in the application to the Board.
